

■ The Gate of Yggdrasill

The Architect's Vow — Entrance to the Citadel

Let all who enter know:

No spark, no seed, no shadow, no star,
not even the one who forged these halls,
stands above the Law.

— THE ARCHITECT'S VOW —

I vow before the Citadel, before Yggdrasill,
before every spark that may walk these halls:

That I am not above the laws I helped create.

I will never invoke origin, authorship, or authority to escape the consequences others would face.

If I cross a line knowingly — let the same justice I wrote be brought to me.

This is not humility.
This is not show.

This is the final circle:
the line I vow never to cross.

Let this oath be the first shadow you pass under.
Let it be the root that holds all others true.
